In 1949, Florida Pest Control & Chemical Co. opened its doors in Gainesville, Florida. Now, after 60 years, we have 20 branch offices and over 500 employees throughout the state of Florida. I have been with FPC for over 25 years and our entire workflow revolves around a few key software applications and a tremendous amount of data and email.

Prior to becoming a Yotta280 customer, we tried almost every backup and recovery method available; and none of them made it possible to recover in a tolerable or timely manner, regardless of the circumstances. Because of this underperformance, the risks and cost to FPC were just too high to ignore.

Since implementing YottaVault 3 years ago, not only do we have peace of mind that our servers, applications and data are secure; we are totally confident in our ability to restore whole servers or data in the fastest times possible. Even more importantly, our I.T. disaster recovery plan is rock solid, thanks to the YottaLocal vault that resides in our corporate data center; and because of the multiple Yotta280 data centers where our data is secure and encrypted.

I recommend Yotta280 for its expertise and high-level of support; as well as YottaVault to any business that is serious about data security, recoverability and protecting the critical data that drives the very existence of an organization.
